Sometimes you can get so caught up in the whirlwind of modern life, that you forget what really matters: sharing quality time together. The joy of play is second to none and comes with endless benefits. We're passionate about building on this foundation, helping you to live your best life, for years to come. We believe that leisure products designed for decades of use should blend seamlessly into their surroundings, perhaps even enhance them. That's why we created Play-Style.

Play in style with Play-Style!

The Play-Style concept is about combining the joy of play with the pleasure of aesthetic design, adding a new dimension to popular games. From the choice of materials and sleek lines to the superior design and careful finishing touches, the attention lavished on every detail makes these products unique, for both their quality and their aesthetic appeal.

Creating beautiful spaces and bringing people together.

A unique heritage

As a family business in tune with its heritage and traditional values, Cornilleau has always looked to its roots to drive forward new ideas and innovations. Starting out in joinery and cabinet-making, then moving on to become an internationally respected specialist in ping-pong tables, the company now offers a much wider range of products, all underpinned by the same principles that have shaped its success so far. With a wealth of skills and experience at its headquarters in the Picardy region of France, and a network of dedicated local partners, Cornilleau is continuing the tradition of quality and durability it is famous for.

Fun or furniture, now you can have both!

Transform your pool table or ping-pong table into a dining table in seconds, or vice versa to switch from food to fun effortlessly. How do you choose between designer furniture and entertainment for your outdoor space? Play-Style is for people who refuse to choose and want to enjoy sharing time with one family and friends, whatever the occasion.

Getting together around the table to play a game or to share a meal.

Durable by design

Enjoying a game in the great outdoors gives you an unbeatable sense of freedom. But this feeling would be impossible without complete and absolute confidence in your equipment. Rain, snow, blazing sun - our products are all thoroughly tested for your peace of mind. Every component, every part and every mechanism has been rigorously tested so that we can confidently guarantee our products between 5 and 10 years, depending on the particular model. With a little extra care, you can expect them to last much longer. Like all Cornilleau products, they can be repaired using spare parts that we keep in stock at least for 20 years after the original purchase.

The freedom and pleasure of outdoor play can only be experienced with products that are built to last.

ORIGIN

COLLECTION

A tribute to Cornilleau's original business of cabinet-making, the Origin collection was inspired by the purest and most precious thing of all: nature. Featuring a sleek design incorporating solid wood, it is an invitation to rediscover the simple, timeless joy of playing - and to do it in style.

When ping-pong meets design

The blissful union of ping-pong and design hinges on two key factors: Cornilleau's extensive knowledge of ping-pong equipment and its bold aesthetic choices. Striking lines, materials and finishes work like a charm, beckoning some to sit back and enjoy and others to get their game on. Designed with quality, strength and durability in mind, it complements a wide range of indoor and outdoor spaces, whether furnished or more simply styled.

For smaller gatherings

Closer to the size of a regular dining table, the medium version of the Origin outdoor table boasts all the same great features as its big sister. Taking up less space, it can easily replace a conventional garden table while still letting you indulge in the fun of ping-pong. Its attractive design and more compact size will complement any garden or decking space, or even your living room, adding a stylish touch that will make your home the place to be.

FOOSBALL TABLE

A fresh look for foosball

Designed by Cornilleau in partnership with foosball specialist Stella, this piece combines elegance with performance, and fun with hard-wearing quality. Cornilleau's design, rigorous testing and experience in the outdoor sector combine with the easy play and precision of a Stella product. Metal, wood and resin laminate come together in a unique look where every detail counts, like the angled sides that allow you to bounce the balls.

Innovation as a driving force

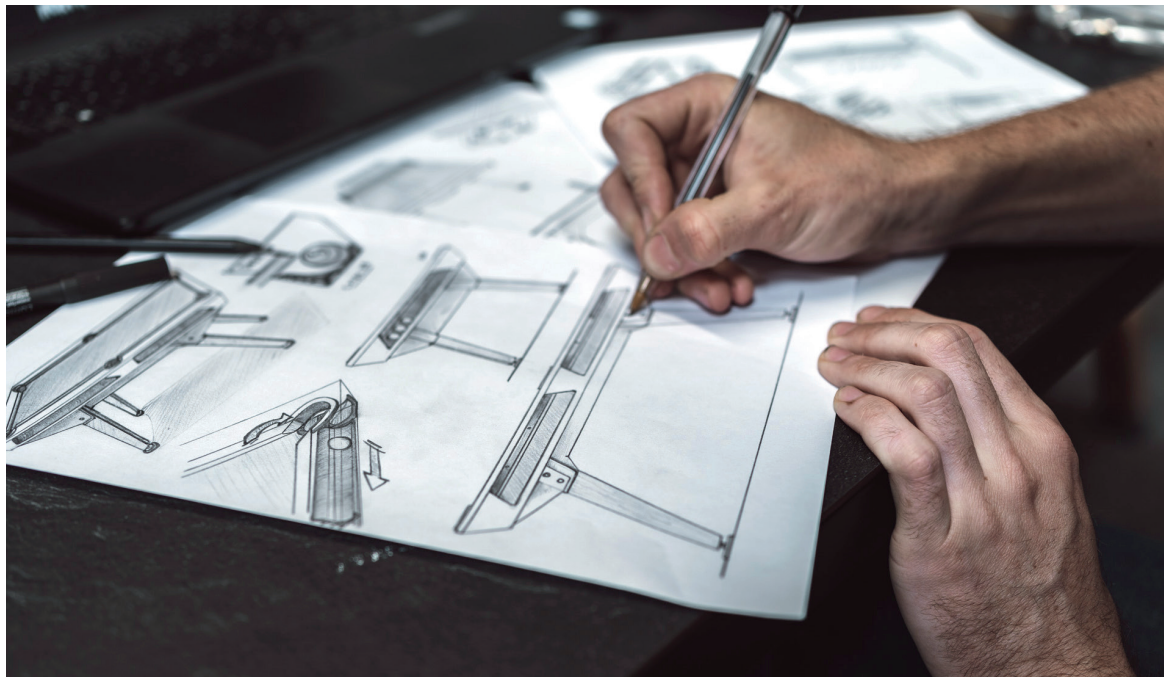

Cornilleau has always been committed to staying one step ahead rethinking how things are used. This ethos requires significant investment in design, research and development. With 10% of its workforce working exclusively in these three areas, the company is constantly pushing forward, ensuring it stays ahead of the game.

Our design philosophy

Every line, every piece of equipment, and every detail is designed from two perspectives: aesthetics and functionality. This approach allows us to create products that provide the best possible experience for each and every user. Our philosophy focuses not just on ergonomics, but also on performance and durability, so the pleasure of playing can be shared across the generations.

Cornilleau is working hard to reduce its impact on the environment, building responsibility into every design from the very start. Durable materials, environmentally-friendly design, and standard parts that make repairs even easier... every single design choice is part of our responsible approach.

Technical excellence

Expert craftsmanship with industrial quality. There is a very close relationship between research and development, where products are designed, and the manufacturing process, where they are actually made. It's the only way to produce large volumes of high-quality products that are constantly evolving and being improved. This philosophy has been passed down from Pierre Cornilleau, who implemented it back in the 70s, producing up to 100,000 world-class ping-pong tables every year.

86

88

Serious about quality

We test each and every component of all our products in our in-house laboratory to assess its mechanical integrity, strength and durability. This is followed by rigorous testing under real-life conditions. Even when a product is on the market, we don't stop there - we are constantly looking for ways to make it even better.

90

Happy to help

We have a specialist team based in our head office dedicated to providing outstanding support to all our customers, retailers, and partners alike. Tasked with assisting, advising and offering solutions, this team is supported by our experts at head office to provide the best possible response to your queries.

From help with placing orders, through logistics and delivery management, to after-sales service and advice on how to repair a product - no matter how long ago you bought it - it's all part of our commitment to exceptional service.
